Andrew Byrne
Head of Public Policy, EMEA
Uber

Dear Andrew,

Thank you for your letter of 8 November following the Committee's request for further information from Uber on driver and passenger safety, first raised in our evidence session on 10 October this year.

In your response to our questions on the number and proportion of drivers working fewer than 10hrs, and more than 20, 40, 50, 60, 70, 80hrs per week, you confirmed that "fewer than 6% of drivers spend more than 60 hours logged into the app per week." I would be grateful if you could update the Committee on the missing figures of how many and what proportion of drivers work more than 70hrs and 80hrs per week.

Your letter also noted the March 2017 announcement of an intention to put driver hour limits in place. I would be grateful if you could provide the Committee with the following information:

- When you will introduce driver hour limits for your UK workforce.
- What the limits per day and per week will be per driver
- Whether this limit will include driving time or all time in the Uber app.

It would be helpful to the Committee for a response no later than 13 December.

Yours,

Rachel Reeves.
