Note:

Where engagements spanned multiple years, we have set them out according to the year in which we opened an engagement code or, if later, when we began performing the services.

In a small number of cases where the services relate to historic matters (outside our usual 7 year document retention period) we have less information readily available but have nonetheless provided our best indication of the work done and the associated fees.

We have endeavoured to provide accurate details of our fees. However, where we were unable to gather detailed information in the time available, we have provided approximate figures (see references to “Approx”).

We have also indicated where our fees remain unpaid.
