USE OF IMAGES FROM THE PARLIAMENTARY ARCHIVES

There are up to three fees which are potentially incurred when ordering an image:

1. Reprographic fee - what we charge to create the image for you
2. Postage costs - the costs of sending the image to you, if any
3. Licence fee - the cost of licensing its use in books, newspapers, TV, film, DVDs, websites etc.

This document relates to Licence fees payable for commercial use or educational publishing. Details of reprographic fees and postage costs are available separately from the Archives. There is also a separate set of terms and conditions for media visits.

APPLYING FOR A LICENCE

You need permission to reproduce our images.

Once we receive your completed application form, with the agreement signed at the end, we will reply and confirm how much it is going to cost.

We will fulfil your order as quickly as possible following receipt of this form.

The specific terms of the licence are set out in the invoice (you'll need to get further permission if you want to use the images in any other way) while the general terms are spelt out carefully in our terms & conditions below.

The paid invoice plus your agreement to our terms and conditions forms the licence. If you would like more information please contact us at archives@parliament.uk

TERMS & CONDITIONS FOR USE OF IMAGES FROM THE PARLIAMENTARY ARCHIVES

These Conditions together with the application above constitute an agreement ("the Agreement") between the Parliamentary Archives acting on behalf of the Corporate Officer of the House of Lords ("the Archives") and the person identified in the application above ("Licensee"). All licences and permissions in the Agreement are conditional upon Licensee complying with the terms of the Agreement. Reproducing any records or other copyright work(s) in breach of or outside the scope of the Agreement is an infringement of copyright.

In the Agreement the following terms, unless the context otherwise requires, have the following meanings: "the Image" means any and all images described above together with any accompanying caption text and other materials supplied by the Archives "Licensed Product" means the publication or any type of product (including books, merchandise, TV programmes and films) or products which make use of the Image in the way described above.

In the Agreement, references to "include" and "including" are to be construed without limitation. References to person(s) include incorporated and unincorporated bodies or partnerships and include reference to that person's successors and assigns.

Subject to Licensee's full and timely compliance with all the terms set out in the application, the Archives grants to Licensee during the Term a non-exclusive licence to copy the Image for the purposes of using such copies on or in relation to Licensed Products. No other rights in or to the Images are granted.

Unless otherwise stated in the Confirmation Form, the Archives merely grants rights in the photographic work that is the Image. The Licensee will be solely responsible for any other clearances that may be necessary, including any copyright and moral rights that may be held by the artist (or her estate) who created the work that is the subject of the photographic image supplied.

All rights and permissions to Licensee shall be limited to non-exclusive, personal, non-transferable reproduction rights for single use only in the United Kingdom unless this application expressly states otherwise. A single use means a reproduction in one size for one edition of a single printed publication published in one language only.

Any unauthorised reproduction of the Archives' copyright images for commercial purposes constitutes an infringement of rights, rendering those responsible liable for the payment of fees not less than twice that charged for properly authorised reproduction, in addition to damages, if appropriate.

The Archives requires payment in advance for the supply of the Image and for reproduction fees, except in the case of credit account Licensees, for whom payment terms are strictly 30 days from the issue date on the invoice. The breach of such terms will automatically result in fees being charged at the maximum applicable rate.

The supply of the Image from the Archives does not confer the rights to store or reproduce it or make it available to the public in any medium or form. Nor does the supply of the Image by the Archives imply the availability of these rights.

If and when rights are granted by the Archives, these are strictly limited to the use, period of time and the territory specified on the invoice. Invoices for reproduction rights issued by the Archives may represent an offer but do not constitute a licence, implied or actual, to grant the rights specified, until payment - in full - of this invoice has been received. Any reproduction of the Image before full payment of the invoice constitutes an infringement of rights, rendering the Licensee liable for the payment of damages.

On full payment of the invoice, reproduction rights are granted to the Licensee, as specified on the invoice, and are not transferable.

The Licensee must credit all images as follows (unless indicated otherwise): "Parliamentary Archives, London" followed by the full reference number of the record imaged. The cropping or manipulation of the Image is not allowed without express permission, and any such alterations to the presentation of the Image must be acknowledged alongside the Image, as agreed in writing by the Archives. Images must not be reproduced without the correct credit line or in reverse, and Licensees who do so will be charged additional fees, which will not be less than the original reproduction fee.

The Images must not be copied, stored or transmitted in electronic or other media unless by separate written permission, except where such is incidentally and wholly necessary to the process of production for products properly licensed by the Archives. At the conclusion of such production, all intermediate copies of this material must be destroyed.

The Licensee must send at least one complimentary copy of each publication or product to the Archives for its records, within one month of the first broadcast or publication.

The Archives reserves the publication right in all the images made available through it, whether or not they have been previously published in any form.

The Licensee indemnifies the Archives against damages as a result of unauthorised or defamatory use of the pictures.

In the event of the Licensee's insolvency, bankruptcy or death no transfer of ownership in rights or materials from the Archives shall be deemed to have occurred other than those properly licensed by the Archives. Materials produced by the Licensee containing images from the Archives shall be considered to be infringing copyright unless rights have been fully paid for and licensed by the Archives. Therefore such products may not be used to settle the Licensee's outstanding liabilities without first settling any outstanding invoices due to the Archives from the Licensee.

I,on behalf of have read and agree to abide by the Parliamentary Archives' terms and conditions as set out in the document Terms and conditions for use of images from the Parliamentary Archives.

I attach a written request for a licence that sets out the image required and gives details of the use to which it will be put.

I accept the licence fees that will be charged for use of the above mentioned image as set out above and undertake to pay this fee to the Parliamentary Archives within one calendar month of receiving the invoice.

I undertake that any of our employees, licensees, contractors or agents taking part in publication and distribution activities will abide by the terms of the licence.

I undertake to credit the Parliamentary Archives in the manner set out in the Terms and Conditions as the source of the records.

I agree to provide a complimentary copy of the product or publication to the Parliamentary Archives (except in the case of websites and exhibition use) within one month of its first broadcast, or publication.
