

Supplementary correspondence from Shell

Question:

Is Shell in any conversation with Government about cost-recovery for the Peterhead project following the cancellation? Did any legal issues arise from the decision?

Response:

We have had no conversations with Government about cost-recovery related to the cancellation of the CCS Commercial Competition. We continue to have routine conversations related to our existing contract, agreed in March 2014, for FEED studies for the Peterhead CCS Project.

22 January 2016