THE PRIME MINISTER

21 March 2016

Dear Andrew,

At the end of my appearance before the Liaison Committee in January we briefly discussed the schedule for my future appearances this year. As I explained, the planning of my diary has been on the basis that I would next appear before the Summer Recess and then again in the autumn.

I know that my Office has been in discussions with the Committee Secretariat about possible dates for my next appearance. Sadly, as has been explained, heavy diary pressures in the coming months mean that it is not possible to provide dates before those that have been offered.

I look forward to our discussions on one of those dates.

*Yours,
David*

The Right Honourable Andrew Tyrie MP
