

House of Lords – Financial Assistance to Opposition Parties 1 April 2022 – 31 March 2023

A scheme for providing financial assistance to the Opposition and second largest opposition party in the House of Lords to assist them in carrying out their Parliamentary business was introduced in October 1996. This was extended to cover the Convenor of Crossbench Peers in October 1999.

Under the scheme, the parties and Convenor are responsible for ensuring that the expenses claimed are exclusively in relation to their Parliamentary business. At the end of each financial year they provide a certificate from an independent professional auditor to confirm this.

The maximum amounts payable are uprated annually in line with the retail price index.

	Total Payments Made
Official Opposition – Labour	£726,814
Liberal Democrats	£362,892
Convenor of the Crossbench Peers	£0

In addition to the £1,089,706 Financial Assistance for Opposition Parties above, staff costs of £95,013 in relation to assistance for the Convenor of the Crossbench Peers have been incurred by the House of Lords and funded under the arrangements for Financial Assistance for Opposition Parties.
